DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 2. Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(be) as being anticipated by Starzl et al, U.S. Patent No. 5,542,431.

In regards to claims 1, 11, 20, and 21, Starzl discloses a heat detection system and methodology for determining value related to the occurrence of estrus in a cow for the purpose of deciding when the cow should be inseminated. In one embodiment, "a combination of frequency and duration heat mount data, in which frequency refers to the number of mounts and duration refers to the time of the mount, is used". In another embodiment, "the heat cycle in the cow is determined using information additional to the frequency and duration of cow or heat mounts". In Starzl's system, he discloses: an electronic patch 46 which includes a transmitter module 30 for detecting and transmitting information relating to heat mount data (see col. 6, lines 20-28 and Figs. 1 and 2); and a computer module 42 for receiving and analyzing the heat mount data and any other data used in making determinations related to the occurrence of heat in a cow and determining whether estrus has occurred and the occurrence of peak estrus (see col. 6, line 57 to col. 7, line 3, and col. 20, line 54 to col. 21, line 59).

Application/Control Number: 09/470,116

Art Unit: 3736

As to claims 2, 14, 18, and 19, Starzl discloses a pressure switch assembly 124, which includes if the duration of mounts meet a preset threshold of time and if a preset number of mounts occur within a predetermined period of time (see col. 11, lines 38-55, col. 12, line 66 to col. 13, line 12, and col. 20, line 54 to col. 21, line 59).

As to claim 3, Starzl discloses a computer module 42 (see Fig. 1).

As to claim 4, Starzl discloses battery unit 88 (see Fig. 2).

As to claim 5, Starzl discloses a pressure switch assembly 124 (see Fig. 2).

As to claims 6, 12, and 13, Starzl discloses determining whether estrus has occurred and the occurrence of peak estrus (see col. 6, line 66 to col. 7, line 1).

As to claims 7, 8, 16, and 17, Starzl discloses a computer screen displaying useful information based on the analyzed data (see col. 4, lines 39-42).

As to claim 9, Starzl discloses cover 50 and 52 (see col. 8, lines 20-29 and Fig. 2).

As to claim 10, Starzl does not disclose a reset means. However, it is inherent that Starzl's apparatus can be resetted to start over again.

Response to Arguments

- 3. Claims 12-21 were added.
- 4. Claims 1-11 were amended.
- 5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-11 have been considered but are most in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
